FORMALLY TOLD KERN

CHAIRMAN BELL NOTIFIED VICE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE OF HIS NOMINATION.

GREAT MULTITUDE WAS PRESENT

Mr. Kern in Acceptance Speech Declared Again That in Truth the People Do Not Rule—Cites Examples of Failure.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 25.—John Worth Kern, democratic candidate for vice president, was today formally notified of his nomination. The meeting was held in the elaborately decorated Coliseum at the state fair grounds, and was attended by many thousands of people, regardless of party, attracted by the distinguished speakers on the program. The weather was ideal for the occasion. The Coliseum accommodates 15,000 persons, but so great was the crowd that it was necessary to hold overflow meetings.

William Jennings Bryan and other speakers, members of the notification committee, members of the national committee, headed by Norman E. Mack, chairman, and others of the official party arrived in the city last night and early this morning.

A conference was held last night between Bryan, Kern and other leaders, and the morning hours today were also devoted to a conference by party leaders, while a band concert at the Denison hotel assisted in amusing the crowds congregated in the streets.

Later a reception was held by Bryan and Kern at the hotel. After luncheon at the hotel by the speakers and members of the national and notification committees, the official party was driven to the state fair grounds in automobiles. Bryan, Kern and Chairman Bell, of the notification committee, riding together. The ride to the fair grounds was through the principal streets, past the Kern residence.

The doors of the Coliseum were thrown open to the public several hours before the exercises began.

Thomas Taggart, national committeeman from Indiana, was selected to call the meeting to order. After performing this duty he immediately handed the gavel to National Chairman Mack, who introduced Theodore E. Bell, of California, and Mr. Kern in turn formally notified Mr. Kern that he had been selected by the democratic party to go on the national ticket with Mr. Bryan.

Mr. Kern, in his speech of acceptance, devoted some time to the question, "Shall the people rule?" He deprecated what he claimed is the excessive power now in the hands of the speaker of the house of representatives and denied that the people have ruled, because, he said, their will had not been given effect.

Kern charged that there is a power within the republican party which is determined that the people shall not rule, which power has manifested itself whenever effort has been made to check the destructive work of unlawful combinations, to reduce the tariff or to equalize the burdens of taxation by legislative enactment.

The democratic party, he said, would draw a sharp line between lawful business, lawfully conducted, and all unlawful business.

An invocation was pronounced by Rev. Fr. Gavisk, of St. John's Roman Catholic church, this city, music separating the speeches.

Thomas Marshall, democratic candidate for governor of Indiana, followed Mr. Kern. Then came Bryan's speech on "Trusts."

Child Fractured Her Arm

Viola Edding, the 18-months-old daughter of Herman W. Edding, a Missouri Pacific boilermaker helper, living at 308 Boonville street, fell from a chair at the noon hour today and fractured her right arm at the elbow. Dr. Bohling reduced the fracture.

Ministers Go to Conference.

Rev. Samuel Buechner, pastor of the German M. E. church, and Rev. W. L. Meyer, of Smithton, left this afternoon for Lincoln, Neb., to attend the West German conference. The meeting will be presided over by Bishop John L. Nuelson, of Omaha. Both ministers have been petitioned by their congregations to return.

Rev. Buechner has just completed seven years' active and efficient service with the German M. E. church in this city.

Want Reduced Rates for Fair.

A committee of local business men interested in the Missouri state fair will leave this week for St. Louis to confer with railway officials relative to securing a rate for visitors to the state fair.

Prior to the enactment of the law for a two cent a mile fare in Missouri the rate was one and one-half fare for the round trip, but after the new law went into effect the regular rate was established and the intention of the men is to secure a reduced rate if possible.

KEPT MARRIAGE SECRET

NEARLY TWO YEARS BEFORE AN INTIMATION WAS GIVEN THEIR MANY FRIENDS.

ROBERT GORDON IS A BENEDICT

Wedded Miss Dorothy Croft, a South-east Missouri Girl, on December 1, 1906—Considerable Surprise at Columbia.

Columbia, Mo., Aug. 25.—After keeping their marriage a secret nearly two years, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon have just announced their wedding at their home in St. Paul, Minn. Mr. and Mrs. Turner Gordon, parents of Mr. Gordon, were apprised yesterday of the fact that they have a new daughter-in-law.

The news that "Bob" Gordon, as he is called by his host of friends in Columbia, has been a benedict for this length of time will be heard with surprise here. No one ever suspected him of deserting the ranks of the bachelors and he will receive the sincere congratulations of all who know him.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon were married in St. Joseph, Mich., December 1, 1906. For personal reasons the wedding was kept a secret till two or three days ago.

Mrs. Gordon was formerly Miss Dorothy Croft. Her father, L. N. Croft, is an extensive lumber dealer and mill owner in Southeast Missouri. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon first met in Upper Sandusky, Ohio, about three years ago, when Turner S. Gordon conducted a hotel in that city and Bob Gordon clerked for him.

Later they met in Chicago at the Great Northern hotel, where Mr. Gordon held the responsible position of rooming clerk, and where Mrs. Croft and her daughter stopped.

It was at this time that Mr. and Mrs. Gordon quietly left the city and went across Lake Michigan to St. Joseph, where they were married and returned the same day.

Mrs. Gordon retained her mother at the Great Northern hotel and returned to Missouri with her without mentioning the wedding. She remained there until recently and then joined her husband in St. Paul.

The groom is now head clerk at the Sherman, one of the principal hotels of St. Paul, which important position he has held for some time.

There was no more popular young man in Columbia than Bob Gordon, and his friends here wish him all prosperity and happiness. They also hope that he will soon visit Columbia with his bride and give them an opportunity of meeting her.

KILLED FOR MONEY

Aged Missouri Miser Found With Bullet Hole in Head.

Craig, Mo., Aug. 25.—The dead body of John Pyle, an aged miser, was found in his cabin near Craig last night with a bullet hole in his head. Pyle had considerable money hidden about his cabin and robbery was undoubtedly the motive for the murder.

Lad Held for Criminal Court.

The preliminary examination of Crawford Clark, a 13-year-old boy, charged with breaking into and robbing A. E. Leslie's grocery store, was held before Judge Clark, sitting as ex-officio justice of the peace, today. The prisoner pleaded guilty and was held to the action of the criminal court. An effort will be made to send the lad to the state reform school.

THE 'YELLOW PERIL' STRIKES CANADA

IS MISTAKEN FOR BRYAN

DOUBLE OF NEBRASKAN CHANGED HIS APPEARANCE AS A RESULT.

HAD LOST FOB AND OTHER THINGS

Routed From a Train and a Speech Demanded by People Who Had Mistaken Him for "Peerless Leader."

New York, Aug. 25.—Dr. David Coombs Peyton, of Jeffersonville, Ind., president of the Indiana State Medical association, got a hair cut in the Hoffman house yesterday. Dr. Peyton said to the barber: "You need not shave my upper lip today; I'm going to grow a mustache."

Then Dr. Peyton got into a closed cab, and, notwithstanding the heat, pulled down the curtains and told the driver to break all records driving to the nearest railroad station.

Once Dr. Peyton thought it was a joke because he is a remarkable double of William Jennings Bryan, but after being routed out of a New Haven train coming from Boston to New York at midnight, pushed to the back platform, cheered and asked to deliver a speech, Dr. Peyton thought it was time to change his looks.

Dr. Peyton would not have worried so much over the loss of sleep, but yesterday he was caught in the Cafe Martin, and a score of men insisted on shaking hands with him. During the excitement Dr. Peyton lost a watch and that was too much, hence the hair cut and a new mustache.

While the Indiana doctor was trying to escape from the Hoffman house he was found by several enthusiastic democrats on their way to attend the democratic committee meeting at the Victor hotel, and before he could prove he was not William Jennings Bryan he had his swag hat broken.

"I am a Bryan democrat," explained Dr. Peyton. "I like Mr. Bryan and have entertained him, but I can't carry around any more of his troubles on my shoulders. He seems to have too many friends in New York, so I'm going back home, where folks know me."

"It so happens that Mr. Bryan and I are the exact age and the same height and weight. I must look like him, for the folks on the New Haven train, I think, put me down as a terrible liar when I insisted I was not the real article."

"I would like it much better if people would mistake me for having the brains of Mr. Bryan, rather than being like him in looks. Anyhow, I'm going home minus a job, the loss of a breakfast, a straw hat and some sleep."

Child Died of Whooping Cough.

The 8-year-old son of Ben F. McFadden, colored, 400 West Henry street, died of whooping cough this morning, and will be buried in the colored cemetery tomorrow afternoon.

Presented Staff Peaches.

Prof. S. A. Gregg today presented the Democrat-Sentinel staff with some excellent specimens of peaches, grown in the yard of his home.

LAND FOR SETTLEMENT

PRESIDENT ISSUES PROCLAMATION OPENING 1800 ACRES IN ROSEBUD RESERVATION.

WILL BE ALLOTTED BY LOTTERY

October 19 is the Day Set for the Drawing to Take Place at Dallas, South Dakota—Registration Begins October 5.

Washington, Aug. 25.—President Roosevelt has issued a proclamation for opening to settlement 1,800 acres of the surplus lands of the Rosebud Indian reservation in South Dakota.

The lands will be selected by the lottery process and the drawing will take place at Dallas, South Dakota, October 19, next. The minimum price fixed on the land is $6 per acre and the homestead laws are made applicable to all entries. Registration will begin October 5 and continue to October 17. Applicants can register either at Dallas, Chamberlain, Gregory or Presho, South Dakota, or O'Neil or Valentine, Neb.

BROKERAGE HOUSE SUSPENDS

One of the Largest Concerns in Wall Street Gave Up Ghost Today.

New York, Aug. 25.—A. O. Brown & Co., one of the largest brokerage houses in this city, announced its suspension on the stock exchange this afternoon. The transactions of the firm in the remarkable stock market of last Saturday have been under investigation by the stock exchange. No statement was given out, but the figures of the amounts involved are large.

VISION OF BURIED GOLD

CAME TO SEERESS AND DIGGERS WORK AT HER BEHEST IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

WAS NOT LOCATED THE FIRST DAY

Confident of Success in the End, and Will Continue Going Into the Bowels of the Earth—A Remarkable Woman.

Lebanon, N. H., Aug. 25.—Fascinated by a tale of buried treasure, that a clairvoyant said she saw in a vision, hundreds of townspeople yesterday thronged the farm of Peter Freedette, near here, and watched ten busy workmen digging at a spot which the medium had designated.

At dusk they had excavated a great square space twenty-two feet deep, but they quit for the day without a sign of gold.

"Only a few feet more and you will strike it," their woman leader told them. "I saw it, oh, so plainly, right there, but deep down."

All the diggers and scores of residents believe firmly the treasure will be uncovered. The clairvoyant is Mrs. Nellie M. Titus, who has figured in several sensational incidents and who has been pronounced a genuine psychic by no less an authority than Prof. William James, of Harvard.

At daybreak today the workmen and the spectators, too, were again on the Freedette farm.

Mrs. Titus lives with her husband in Enfield, near here. A few nights ago, both say, she unconsciously entered a state of clairvoyance and the vision came to her.

"I saw a lot of Indians carrying a heavy iron chest," she said in describing the vision. "It was about four feet long and a foot wide. They were on the edge of a pond, and before they buried the chest they opened it, so I could see that it was filled with gold coins."

"They placed the chest in the ground at a shallow depth, but the pond years ago dried up and the earth filled in over the place, so it may be now that the chest is as deep down as twenty feet. I am sure it is there."

Mrs. Titus and her husband went to Peter Freedette, who owns the farm, and told of the vision. He was not much impressed by the tale, but said they might go ahead and dig if they would give him a fourth of the money if any was found.

Mrs. Titus not only located the spot by remembering her vision, but she also carried a divining rod over the entire farm and the rod bent downward at the spot she had first selected.

Mrs. Titus is credited with having located the body of Bertha Huse, a girl who was drowned in a lake three years ago, describing conditions which were confirmed afterward by a diver.

Wanted Wedding Kept Secret.

Announcement was made today of the marriage of E. W. Carver, of this city, to Miss Ramey D. Richardson, of Akinsville, Mo., at the home of a relative on East Fifth street last Saturday evening. The couple requested Judge Clark, who performed the ceremony, to keep the news of the marriage a secret.

MOTHER AND SON KILLED BY A CAR

Granddaughter Has Dreamed of Sudden Death—Remarkable Case Reported From Cleveland, Ohio.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 25.—Vivid presentiments of impending death Sunday night were followed last afternoon by the death under a Lake Shore electric car of Mrs. Mary Eccles, 83 years old, and her son, William J. Eccles, 45, near Dover Center, Cuyahoga county.

Eccles lost his life in a futile effort to save his mother, who was unable to cross the tracks ahead of the car with sufficient speed, because of her feebleness.

Eccles had crossed the tracks to halt the car, bound for this city, but turned back when he saw the danger in which his mother stood. Both were hurled a half hundred feet and were dead when picked up.

Sunday night Mrs. Eccles dreamed that her husband, who had been dead seven years, called to her to join him, and Mary Eccles, daughter of William Eccles, who lived with her grandmother, dreamed of a sudden death.

The aged woman, before going into the country with her son, told her granddaughter they might never see each other again. The granddaughter dreamed of escape on the door several years ago and a boarder in their home died the following day.

A NEGRO WITH ONE LEG

Gave the Constabulary a Lively Chase This Morning.

Marshall Cox a worthless negro, who has been employed as porter at a West Main street "pool room," and who was fined $1 and costs by Judge Rickman yesterday for threatening to kill Maggie Atkinson, made a second attempt to carry out his threat last night, but was prevented by a friend of the woman, who acted as a "stool" until she made good her escape from the negro.

A second complaint was made to the authorities today and Deputy Constables Farmer and Drake were given a commitment to lock up Cox unless he paid his fine. The officers proceeded to his residence to get the man.

Cox espied the "law" and started to run. In spite of the fact that he is crippled, he gave the officers a merry chase, squirming in and out of North Sedalia houses like a bat.

Evading Deputy Farmer, who was unarmed, Cox started to run down the railroad tracks and ran into the arms of Deputy Drake. He was returned to jail to serve out his fine and when released will be ordered from town by the police.

Cox became infuriated with the Atkinson woman some time ago, and, in spite of her protests, continually pressed his suit. After repeated repulsions he threatened to take her life, and endeavored to carry out his threat several times, but on each occasion was thwarted in the attempt.

Cox is 28 years old and formerly lived at Coffeyville, Kas. He sustained a bullet wound in his left leg at Coffeyville at the time the famous Dalton gang raided Coffeyville and all were killed except one.

Cox was in his early teens at the time and was employed by John Khloer, who took an active part in the battle, and is credited in history with having killed more members of the gang than any other one man.

IS NO LONGER A MYSTERY

WOMAN DETAINED IN ST. LOUIS WHO COULD NOT REMEMBER HER NAME.

WAS TAKEN THERE FROM PACIFIC

Had Visited a Sister at Lexington, Mo., But Left There Four Months Ago, and Since Then She Had Not Been Heard From.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 25.—After hours of patient questioning, and by linking an association of ideas, Assistant Superintendent Rodney Bunch Monday drew from the mysterious woman at the city hospital that she is Miss Rosie E. Roff, of Lexington, Mo. She claims she has a sister named Kate there, who has been notified by telegram.

The woman, who is apparently 50 years old, says she left Lexington six weeks ago. She was taken to the West End dispensary Sunday afternoon from St. Ann's foundling asylum, where she was temporarily lodged after being brought to St. Louis earlier in the day from Pacific, Mo., by John Moore, owner of a hotel at that place.

Moore told the police the woman came to Pacific six weeks ago with a trunk bearing the name "Rose." She had money and engaged a room. She refused to register on arrival or afterward and acted queerly, saying she could not remember who she was or where she came from.

A Pacific priest sought to solve her identity, but could gather nothing of importance from her rambling talk, so she was brought to St. Louis Sunday in hopes treatment of the proper kind would restore memory.

A card bearing the name of E. F. Graendorf, Lexington, was found in Miss Roff's clothing, and she admitted Mrs. Graendorf is a friend.

The description of the woman, forwarded to various police districts, is as follows: Fifty years old, 5 feet 7 inches high, weight 120 pounds, black hair, streaked with gray, and false teeth. At the city hospital $41 in currency, two gold coins and a torn $20 bill were found on her.

Had Visited in Lexington.

Lexington, Mo., Aug. 25.—Miss Rosie Roff was here four months ago visiting her sister, Mrs. Katherine Graendorf. She went from here to stay with her niece, Mrs. Gus Rinne, 817 South Washtenaw avenue, Chicago. She has a sister, Mrs. Zenter, at the same address, and a half-sister, Tony Roff, in East St. Louis. Miss Roff is 60 years old, never married, has not been heard from since leaving here four months ago, and was supposed to be in Chicago.

EAST SIDE VS. WEST SIDE

Played Tennis on Latter's Court Yesterday Afternoon.

The East Sedalia tennis team contested with the West Sedalia team on the latter's court yesterday. Vern McNeil and Biar Penniston, of the East Sedalia court, played "Bob" Johns and Leonard Glenn, of the West Sedalia court, winning two sets and tying the third.

Charles Marshall and Dr. King, of the M. K. & T. hospital, also of the East Sedalia team, played John Selken and Dr. B. E. Broadus and won two out of three sets.

Dr. F. R. Morley and Dr. C. H. Weaver played "Bob" Johns and Arthur Hoffman, each side winning five games and quitting on account of darkness.

Entries for Fair Pouring in.

Entries for every department at the eighth annual Missouri state fair are increasing rapidly, and Secretary Stinson, of the fair board, is authority for the statement that indications point to every inch of available space being taken before the closing date for entries, on September 26. The fair board will meet at St. Louis on September 8.

His Expense Account Was $10.

John M. Canutt, candidate for judge of the county court for the Western district, today filed with Recorder Morey his expense account from the recent election, amounting to $10.

NOTICE TO MAIL SUBSCRIBERS.

Subscribers to the Daily Democrat-Sentinel who receive their paper by mail should remember that a recent ruling of the post-office department makes it obligatory on the part of the paper to discontinue sending copies to those who are three months in arrears on their subscription.

This ruling is being followed strictly by the Democrat-Sentinel and those of its subscribers who fail to get the paper will understand why it does not come.

They should not blame the management, because it has no option in the matter, but should at once take steps to pay what is past due, together with at least three months in advance, and get the paper started again.

FOR NATIVE MISSOURIANS.

The fifty dollars in gold that the Democrat-Sentinel is to give away to the oldest native-born Missourians in attendance at the coming state fair will undoubtedly attract much attention and bring out lively competition.

To give every aged native Missourian a chance to win these prizes, however, the offer should be given as much publicity as possible, for naturally there are in the state many old people into whose hands neither the paper nor a fair catalogue will fall, and in consequence they may not learn of this opportunity to attend the fair and bring away with them one of all of the prizes.

It is the wish of the Democrat-

Sentinel, therefore, that exchanges will tell their readers of the contest, calling attention to the conditions and what will be necessary to win.

Others, knowing people whom they think eligible to enter, will do them a favor by informing them of the offer made and how the money can be secured.

It would be a great thing to have gathered at the fair a large number of these pioneer men and women, who are Missourians, born and bred, and who have grown old as this commonwealth has grown great. It would be for each of them an occasion to be fondly cherished; to meet and talk with others whose memories reach back into the primitive days when Missouri was but a wilderness and present day conditions unimagined of, even by the most progressive of its rugged sons and daughters, then laying the foundations of what is now our pride and glory.

While it is true that all who attend can not win prizes, as there are only three, yet the joy of gathering, the tales of long ago that will be told, the exchanging of reminiscences, the contemplation of present day conditions and the sights and scenes of the fair will more than compensate those who by reason of lesser age may not take a prize.

Let the old folks know of this chance to have a good time, and incidentally win a good, substantial sum. Tell them of it and help them to come.

Following is the offer that the Democrat-Sentinel makes:

To the oldest gentleman attending the fair who is a native-born Missourian, $20 in gold.

To the oldest lady attending the fair, who is a native-born Missourian, $20 in gold.

To the couple who have been married longest attending the fair, both to be native-born Missourians, $10 in gold.

Proof of age, birth place and marriage must be submitted at the registry booth on the grounds.

DEMOCRATS ARE RESPONSIBLE.

In one respect this campaign is different from all others that have preceded it in the last twenty years or more. We refer to contributions. Heretofore there has been an overabundance of money—for one of the parties. The only question that had to be answered was how much money would it take to carry (buy) the election, and when the sum was estimated it was forthcoming. The democrats have always been embarrassed financially for the simple reason that the moneyed interests of the nation, the great corporations and trusts, profited by republican rule, and it paid them to purchase the protection and favors it guaranteed, even though the price went into the millions of dollars.

Their bribe-contributions reached a climax under the campaign leadership of Mark Hanna and George B. Cortelyou, when the enormous sums they paid to the republican national committee became a national scandal.

How different today! We see the republican national chairman sweating and worrying in his efforts to raise enough money for legitimate expenses. He states publicly that money is coming in slowly and is difficult to secure. His resources are put to the test in devising for filling the barrel, and he is actually doing what democrats always have had to do—appeal for donations. And poor Tim Woodruff is doing the same in New York state! Think of the commonwealth that harbored Tom Platt, produced the Hydes and McCordys and which possesses the only Wall street in the world tightening up on the republican party at the critical time of election distress and compelling it to take and scrape for "honest" dollars with which to carry an election. The picture is quite heart-rending.

Why this gloom and distraction among the new custodians of the g. o. p. barrel? The democrats will have to shoulder the responsibility. For many years they protested in vain against this election shame. The people laughed at them. The spell of the giant monopoly and the billionaire-breeding tariff, with their colossal products of wealth, was upon the country. Everybody wanted to get a hand in the riotous quest for riches. Everything went and every practice, no matter how vicious and dishonest, was condoned. The trust magnates played the game for all it was worth and filled their coffers with gold. But finally they "worked" the people too hard, they overreached themselves in their brazen use of money to control government and legislation.

The Mark Hanna barrels, which were denounced by the democrats, first brought the people to a realization of the mad extreme to which corruption rule and election debauchery had been carried. But they were as yet only dimly conscious of their pernicious effects and Cortelyou, when he succeeded to the party management, found conditions still favorable to a lavish collection and use of money.

Alton B. Parker exposed the scandal of this campaign and his charges against Cortelyou in this matter have been proven true. Then came the insurance muck, with the disgraceful confessions of Platt about corporation purchase of immunity from the republicans; with revelations of $10,000 to $50,000 contributions to the g. o. p. fund by insurance companies from money which belonged to the policy holders, and finally the Harriman, Roosevelt incident, which disclosed corporation and railroad pipes draining into the barrel.

These exposures turned public sentiment and frightened the republicans. The result was the passage of the state law forbidding corporation contributions to campaign funds and the demand for publicity. For these reforms the democratic party is entitled to the whole credit. They were forced upon the republicans by it after a fight lasting nearly a generation. That the republicans have reformed unwillingly and under protest is shown by the refusal of congress to pass a publicity law, by the overwhelming rejection by the Chicago convention of a campaign publicity plank from the platform and by the determination of the national committee not to publish contributions until "after" the election.

The party will still have the dominating campaign barrel, but it will be shrunk to nail keg proportions in comparison with those of other years. Corporations, railroads and beneficiaries of high protection and lenient treatment of combinations will manage to assist somehow. But they will have to reduce the amounts and resort to difficult subterfuges. The day of swollen campaign barrels and wholesale election debauchery is over. The reform is not yet complete, but a tremendous stride has been made in the right direction, thanks to the democratic party.

If the people of the country appreciate fully what this reform means and its wholesome consequences, they will return democracy to power and the publicity issue alone.

The cash box combination, offered less difficulty than had the other district. Maitland had it open in a twinkling. Then, brazenly lifting out the inner framework bodily, he thrust a fumbling hand into the aperture thus disclosed and pressed the spring, releasing the panel at the back. It disappeared as though by witchcraft, and the splash of light from the bull's-eye discovered a canvas bag squatting humbly in the secret compartment; a fat little canvas bag, considerably soiled from much handling, such as is used by banks for coin, a sturdy, matter-of-fact, every-day sort of canvas bag, with nothing about it of haughtiness, no air of self-importance, or ostentation, to betray the fact that it was the receptacle of a small fortune.

At Maitland's ear, incredulous: "How did you guess?" she breathed. He took thought and breath, both briefly, and prevaricated shamelessly: "Bribed the head clerk of the safe manufacturer who built this."

Rising, he passed over to the center table, the girl following. "Steady with the light," he whispered, and loosed the string around the mouth of the bag, pouring its contents, a glistening, priceless, flaming, iridescent treasure hoard, upon the table.

"Oh!" said a small voice at his side. And again and again: "Oh, Oh! Oh!" Maitland himself was moved by the wonder of it. The jewels seemed to fill the room, with a flashing, amazing, coruscant glamour, rainbowlike. His breath came hot and fast as he gazed upon the trove; a queen's ransom, a fortune incalculable even to its owner. As for the girl, he thought that the wonder of it must have struck her dumb. Not a sound came from the spot where she stood.

Then, abruptly, the sun went out; at least, such was the effect; the light of the hand lamp vanished utterly, leaving a partly-colored blur swimming against the impenetrable blackness, before his eyes.

His lips opened; but a small hand fell firmly upon his own, and a tiny, tremulous whisper thrilled in his ear. "Hush—ah, hush!" "What—?" "Steady—some one coming."

"The jewels?" He heard the dull musical clash of them as her hands swept them back into the bag, and a cold, sickening fear rendered him almost faint with the sense of trust misplaced, illusion resolved into brutal realities. His fingers closed convulsively about her wrists; but she held passive.

"Ah, but I might have expected that," came her reproachful whisper. "Take them, then, my—my partner that was." Her tone cut like a knife, and the touch of the canvas bag, as she forced it into his hands, was hateful to him.

"Forgive me—" he began. "But listen!"

For a space he obeyed, the silence at first seeming tremendous; then, faint but distinct, he heard the tinkle and glide of the brazen rings supporting the smoking room portiere.

His hand sought the girl's; she had not moved, and the cool, firm pressure of her fingers steadied him. He thought quickly.

"Quick!" he told her in the least of whispers. "Leave by the window you opened and wait for me by the motor car."

"No!" There was no time to remonstrate with her. Already he had slipped away.

A little backache at first. Daily increasing till the back is lame and weak. Urinary disorders quickly follow: Diabetes and finally Bright's disease.

This is the downward course of kidney ills.

Don't take this course. Follow the advice of a Sedalia citizen.

R. D. Marshall, of 624 East Fifth street, Sedalia, Mo., says: "My wife complained greatly of a pain across her back. It seemed to be worse in the morning or if she caught the least cold it was sure to settle on her kidneys, causing a too frequent action of the secretions. Seeing Dean's Kidney Pills recommended at the W. E. Bard Drug Co. I procured a box for her. They helped her in a short time, and since using them she has had no backache. She can recommend your medicine without hesitation to anyone as being exactly as represented."

The "Second Step"
Rules and Regulations.

The "Second Step" was to adopt rules and regulations for the transaction of this institution's business. The following were adopted:

No officer, director or depositor allowed to overdraw his account.

No excess loans made in any case.

No loans made on individual names or on chattel security.

All loans made to be secured by other real estate or other collateral security.

Officers and clerks bonded by a corporate surety company.

Every officer and employee of this bank is in duty bound not to divulge information concerning the business of its patrons.

To divide our profits with depositors by allowing them three per cent compound interest on Savings Accounts, and to allow withdrawals to be made at any time without notice.

The above rules are lived up to by this bank. Every dollar that we loan is amply covered with good collateral security. Again we repeat that our idea is SAFETY BEFORE PROFITS.

TO ABOLISH LAW'S DELAY

AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION
IN SESSION AT SEAT-TLE, WASH.

MANY INTERESTING MATTERS UP

The Majority of the Delegates Are
From the Western and Coast
States—The Committee on Ethics to Report.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 25.—One of the most representative gatherings of the legal profession ever assembled in this country marked the opening today of the American Bar association's annual convention. While the majority of the delegates are from the western and coast states, all parts of the Union are represented.

Many interesting matters are before the convention, chief among them being the reports of the committee on legal ethics and the committee appointed to suggest remedies and draft proposed laws to prevent delay and unnecessary cost in litigation. The recommendations of the latter committee are somewhat along the lines of Judge Taft's recent speech, in which he deprecated the "law" delays and the tendency to give the rich a legal advantage over the poor.

If the suggestions of the committee of the American Bar association shall become a law, courts of appeal will no longer decide either criminal or civil litigation brought before them on purely technical points, but will base their rulings on the merits of the case.

This report suggests many changes in the practice of the federal courts for the purpose of expediting the trial of cases, preventing the reversal of judgments on technical grounds, enabling appellate courts to render final judgments on the merits instead of ordering new trials, and preventing appeals for delay in criminal cases.

It opens with a statement that the existing evil which seems most serious to the committee is the disposition in many jurisdictions to dispose of appeals or writs of error, both in civil and criminal cases, on technical grounds, and not to decide them upon the merits. In the judgment of the committee the rule for deciding appeals and writs of error should not be based on reversible error committed in the court below, but upon the merits as the case appears upon the record.

"In other words," says the committee, "we would restore the practice upon the hearing in all appellate courts which originally prevailed at common law, even on writs of error, which existed on appeals in the Roman civil law and has been retained by courts of equity and admiralty." Continuing, the report calls attention to the fact that the tendency of the courts in common law cases is to construe adherence to strict legal rules as the right of each party, and to reverse if there has been any infraction of these rules.

"This makes the trial of a case a game," declares the committee, "in which the one who wins plays the most skillfully, the merits of the controversy having no part."

The unrestricted right to a writ of error in criminal cases is characterized by the committee as a flagrant abuse in judicial procedure.

"These writs," the committee adds, "are constantly sued out solely for delay. The punishment of notorious criminals thus is constantly being postponed, in violation of every principle of justice. This is especially flagrant in the suing out of writs of error from the supreme court of the United States to review the decision of the highest courts of criminal jurisdiction in the several states. We recommend that no writ of error returnable in criminal cases to the supreme court of the United States should be allowed unless a justice of the court shall certify that there is probable cause to believe that the defendant was unjustly convicted."

The committee declares that the reforms in civil procedure which it recommends are not theoretical, but have been tried and adopted in England to the satisfaction of the bar and the benefit of litigants. These reforms in England have resulted in far more expeditious procedure. They would be equally beneficial here.

The report of the committee on legal ethics is very exhaustive, and covers all the relations of a lawyer with his client and the public. The canons deal with the various problems confronting the attorney in his professional conduct.

While the right of a lawyer to defend one whom he believes to be guilty is upheld, "to the end that no person be deprived of life or liberty but by due process of law," the attorney for such defense is commanded to keep within clearly defined legal bounds and "must not do for his client what his sense of honor would forbid him to do for himself."

Newspaper advertising or the solicitation of business by circulars, letters or personal communications is branded as "unprofessional." In the matter of stirring up litigation the report says: "It is unprofessional for a lawyer to volunteer advice to bring a law suit, except in rare cases where ties of blood relationship or trust make it his duty to do so. Not only is stirring up strife and litigation unprofessional, but it is disreputable in morals, contrary to public policy and indictable at common law. No one should be permitted to remain in the profession who hunts up defects in titles or other causes of action and informs thereof in order to be employed to bring suit, or who breeds litigation by seeking out those with claims for personal injuries or those having other grounds of action in order to secure them as clients, or who employ agents or runners for like purposes, or who pays or rewards directly or indirectly those who bring or influence the bringing of such suits to his office, or who remunerates policemen, court or prison officials, physicians, hospital attaches or others who may succeed under the guise of giving friendly advice, in influencing the criminal, the sick and the injured, the ignorant or others to seek his professional services."

The lawyer's duty in the last analysis is defined as follows: "No client, corporate or individual, however powerful, nor any cause, civil or political, however important, is entitled to receive, nor should any lawyer render, any service or advice involving disloyalty to the law whose ministers we are, or disrespect of the judicial office, which we are bound to uphold, or corruption of any person or persons exercising a public office or private trust or deception or betrayal of the public. When rendering any such improper service or advice, the lawyer lays aside his robe of office, and in his own person invites and merits stern and just condemnation. Correspondingly, he advances the honor of the profession and the best interests of his client when he renders service or gives advice tending to impress upon the client and his undertaking exact compliance with the strictest principles of moral law. He must also observe and advise his client to observe the statute law, though until a statute law shall have been construed and interpreted by competent adjudication, he is free and is entitled to advise as to its validity and as to what he conscientiously believes to be its just meaning and intent. But above all, a lawyer will find his higher honor in a deserved reputation for fidelity to private trust and to public duty, as an honest man and as a patriotic and loyal citizen."

UPON the Declaration of Independence his name may be read without spectacles. It stands out the strongest, boldest, finest signature. In the most realistic sense John Hancock pledged life and fortune to finance the Revolution in its earlier stages.

He held investments in banks, breweries, distilleries, stores, hotels, and owned a fleet of ships engaged in the rum, wine and oil trade. The seizure of one of them (for evading the revenue laws) precipitated the Boston Massacre. He was strong-hearted, full of enterprise, patriotic and bold of spirit. Over many a foaming glass of Boston Ale and hot punch he often declared, "I glory in publicly avowing my eternal enmity to tyranny."

SEVEN STAGE COACHES HELD UP IN A PARK AND TOURISTS WERE ROBBED.

ST. LOUISANS AMONG HIS VICTIMS

Highwayman Wears Black Mask and Stands Hidden on the Road—One of the Boldest Crimes of Recent Years.

Butte, Mont., Aug. 25.—One highwayman, wearing a black mask, held up and robbed the passengers of seven stage coaches in Yellowstone park yesterday within a few miles of the old Faithful inn, near the Upper basin, according to telephonic advices received last afternoon. Several St. Louisans were on the coaches.

The coaches left the hotel in the usual order at intervals of a few minutes, and were held up one after another as fast as they came in sight. The highwayman was stationed at a bend in the road, where he was invisible from either direction. At the point of a rifle he lined up the passengers, and, after relieving them of money and valuables, allowed them to enter the stage and resume the journey.

This performance the bandit enacted seven times. It is understood from the meager accounts of the affair received here that he collected in all more than $7,000.

The fact that tourists in the park are not permitted to carry weapons made it impossible for any of the passengers or drivers to offer resistance.

The robber was a man apparently 55 years of age, weighing about 160 pounds. He wore a coat and vest of mixed gray and brown goods and blue overalls.

After holding up the last coach he disappeared into the hills and it was afterward found that he had made his escape on a horse belonging to the transportation company.

All haste was made back to Faithful inn and the ride in the six-horse coach at full speed to give the alarm was not the least exciting of the day's incidents.

The soldiers encamped at the Thumb station were immediately notified and a messenger was dispatched to the camp of soldiers on the West Gallatin river, at the west boundary of the park.

The soldiers from Fort Yellowstone were on the road to take up the trail within ten minutes after news was received.

It is thought almost certain that the bandit is heading for a point between Big Springs and Ashton, stations on the Oregon Short Line's Yellowstone park branch and north of Idaho Springs. There are a number of settlers and forest rangers in the upper and lower basins, and if he continues after reaching the main road he could not escape observation.

On the West Gallatin trail a squad of soldiers is posted near the line.

A "WILD MAN" FROM BORNEO

Only Local Character and Had Not Eaten Missing Dog.

Freeland, Pa., Aug. 25.—Attending a carnival given by St. Ann's church, Mrs. Marshall Dollick missed her pet dog, which had accompanied her to the show.

One of the features was a "wild man from Borneo," very hairy and loaded down with chains. Some of Mrs. Dollick's friends told her that the "wild man" had eaten the dog, and she hurriedly secured a warrant for his arrest.

When taken before Magistrate Holroyd, divested of his paint and wavy, fluens hair, the alleged dog eater proved his innocence, and surprised Mrs. Dollick and her many friends by proving that he was John Wickark, a local character.

If You Read This

It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung disease (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Pinley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Sedgwick, D. of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes, that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisons, harmful or habit-forming drugs and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful agent in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native, medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.

A booklet of extracts from eminent, medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

M'DAVID TO LEAD FIGHT

SPRINGFIELD MAN SAID TO BE COWHERD'S CHOICE FOR CHAIRMAN.

Rubey, It is Said, Will Be Kept at Headquarters to Manage Funds.—W. E. Spratt, of St. Joseph, to Be Secretary.

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 25.—Information has reached here that Senator F. M. McDavid, of Springfield, is the choice of W. S. Cowherd, the democratic candidate for governor, for chairman of the state central committee.

It is conceded that the choice of the head of the ticket, at least on the democratic side, will be elected by the new state committee when that body meets here September 8, so that if the tip is straight that McDavid is Cowherd's choice, he will be the new chairman.

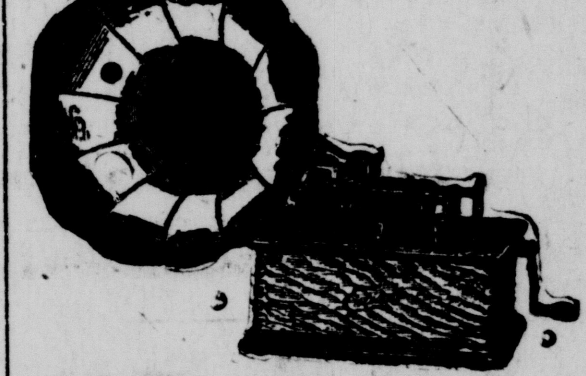

The tip comes direct from Kansas City, and from a source so close to Mr. Cowherd that its authenticity can not be doubted.

At the same time, information came that an effort will be made to induce former Mayor W. E. Spratt, of St. Joseph, to accept the secretaryship of the committee and join forces with McDavid in conducting the campaign.

It is also said that Harry M. Rubey will be urged to accept the position of treasurer, in order that he may remain at headquarters to aid in conducting the campaign.

Aside from his fitness for the place, it is said that McDavid's location in the state has much to do with his selection by Mr. Cowherd.

Southwest Missouri has but slight representation in the makeup of the state ticket. McDavid was one of the early advocates of Cowherd's candidacy, and he organized the forces in Springfield that held Greene county against the Ball following.

STATE COUNCILS OF ALL PARTIES IN KANSAS CONVENED TODAY.

TAKE THE PLACE OF CONVENTIONS

Will Prepare Party Platforms, and Decide How the Business of the Campaign Shall Be Conducted.

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 25.—State councils of all parties having tickets in Kansas were convened here today for the purpose of ratifying the result of the recent primaries, drafting platforms and making plans for the campaign. Under the new primary law, which is having its first trial in this campaign, these councils take the place of state conventions.

The following compose the council for each party: Candidates for state offices, for congress, for United States senator, for the state senate, for the state house of representatives, holdover United States senators and state senators, the chairman of the county central committee for each county.

This makes a membership of the councils of about 300, there being 105 committeemen, 165 representatives, senators and fifteen state officers and ten congressmen. This makes up the party council of each party and all of these councils are meeting in Topeka at the same time. The republicans have the largest council, as there were candidates for every position on the ticket.

This council is to make up the party platform for the campaign and decide how the business of the campaign is to be conducted. The actual work of running the campaign devolves upon the executive committee of nine members, the chairman of the congressional committees.

In the party council no proxies are allowed. If a member is not present, no one else can vote his sentiments and his name is not called. The primary law requires that the party platforms must be made public on the day following the adjournment of the party council.

Where Everything Is Uniformly Good

It is rather difficult to single out for mention any one particular item on our menu. To call special attention to one thing seems to slight all the others. Because they are all in their way equally worthy.

HOWEVER,

Frequently when a person would like to eat steak he foregoes the desire solely because he has no appetite for a large steak and considers how seldom he has succeeded in getting a good small steak. Then he knows, too, that the plebian small steak is ordinarily not given much attention in the cooking.

ENOUGH SAID.

Suppose you ask for a small steak at Walch's. It will prove a pleasant experiment.

NEGROES PUT OFF A BOAT

WHITES FORCE THEM TO LAND IN DESOLATE PLACE IN IOWA.

RACE RIOT IS NARROWLY AVERTED

The Unwelcome Passengers Wander About Until Railroad Makes Up Train and Returned Them to Their Homes.

Keokuk, Ia., Aug. 25.—A race riot among whites and negroes from Central Illinois was narrowly averted here by the diplomacy of railroad officers and a steamboat captain, who finally were compelled by 2,000 whites to put 200 negroes ashore hundreds of miles from home.

An excursion was run from points east of Decatur to Keokuk, and thence to Fort Madison by the steamer J. S.

No negroes boarded the train at or east of Springfield, but west of the state capital negroes got aboard at nearly every station, the largest number at Jacksonville.

As soon as they appeared the whites made objections, but Trainmaster L. W. Karnes, who was with the special train of two sections, managed to keep down the excitement by diplomatic talk until Keokuk was reached.

In the rush of embarking on the steamer here nothing was done, but as soon as the boat got under way trouble began for the captain.

The whites insisted that the negroes must get off. The captain, by soft arguments, combined with hard facts as to his autocracy afloat, and his powers to suppress piracy and anarchy, managed to maintain an armed peace until the boat reached the lower lock of the government channel here, on the spot where President Roosevelt embarked for his river trip last October.

Here the captain was forced to

Is Martin Eden the Real Jack London?

Jack London, the famous author, whose every story has gripped the public with marvelous power and intensity, has just finished his latest novel, which is declared not only to be his masterpiece, but which is, by those who are familiar with London's remarkable career, asserted to be a thinly veiled story of his masterful struggle from the depths to the successful heights that he has attained in the world of literature.

Martin Eden The novel is called, and in Martin Eden, the hero, is pictured a character just as strong, virile, human, passionate, and withal lovable as any ever given in fiction. Martin Eden is a product of the slums of San Francisco. A fighting newsboy, in whom the lust of battle was never stilled, he fought for the very joy of combat and brutally exulted at every victory. Afterwards in climbing upward into realms of high manhood, in overcoming the handicap of sordid birth and unclean surroundings, he battled just as hard, just as determinedly, just as fiercely for education and enlightenment as he did before for the acclaim of his rowdy friends.

HIS INSPIRATION, A WOMAN of gentle birth and culture, adds a romance to the sublime struggle that enters every heart, and gives the tale a touch of heaven-born sentiment that adds love, beauty and tenderness to the fascinating tale.

Mr. London, in writing to the editor of The Pacific Monthly, in which magazine the novel will be published serially, said this of Martin Eden, his latest production:

"I do not know what you will think of this novel; I do not know what to think of it myself, but at any rate, you will find it entirely different from anything else I have done."

Whatever the author may in his modesty think of his own work is one thing, but those who have been privileged to read the manuscript pronounce it to be by far the The Best Production From Jack London's Pen, and all the others without exception were marvels of interest and strength.

So No One Should Fail to Read Martin Eden

However busy one may be, however satiated with romance, however tired or indifferent, Martin Eden will open a new field of interest and by its compelling power, lead its readers into unexplored regions of delight.

This novel will be published exclusively in The Pacific Monthly, beginning in the September number of that magazine. The Pacific Monthly is for sale on all news stands at 15c per copy. The regular subscription price is $1.50 a year, but a special subscription offer of $1.00 per year, if subscription is sent in before September 30, is made to introduce the Jack London story.

MEET OF WOOLGROWERS

TO CONSIDER PLANS FOR A NATIONAL WOOL STORAGE MOVEMENT.

PUT AN END TO BEAR MOVEMENT

Men Who Were Offered 8 Cents a Pound Just After Shearing Netted 16½ Cents a Pound Through Storage.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 25.—Woolgrowers from all over the west are meeting here today with the executive committee of the National Wool Growers' association to consider plans for a national wool storage movement. If the scheme is put into effect, sheepmen say, it will put an end to the bear movement in the wool market which takes place at shearing time every spring and usually results in heavy losses to the wool growers of the west. Wool warehouses will be established at central points throughout the country, where the wool will be stored until such time as the growers are offered what they consider a fair price. Cotton growers of the south, by means of their union, have for years used the same plan to keep up the price of cotton, and the sheepmen believe that it will be fully as effective when applied to the wool growing industry.

Secretary C. B. Stewart, of the Utah Wool Growers' association, a leader in the "wool growers' trust" movement, declares that the sheepmen in this state who were offered 8 cents a pound for their clips just after shearing time, have netted 16½ cents a pound through the storage movement, saving 8½ cents a pound above the price first offered, which would otherwise have been pocketed by the buyers. The meeting here today is a recognition of what has already been accomplished by the Utah sheepmen, and marks the beginning of the movement for making the storage movement of national extent.

At the present meeting a report will be read from the committee that was appointed by the national association to go to Chicago and look into the proposition of bankers and business men there, which was made to encourage the shipment of wool to that city. It is said that at Chicago bankers have promised to advance millions of dollars upon wool for next year's clip that is sent there for storage, and that other business men have made encouraging offers concerning the handling and storing of the wool.

But Chicago is not the only city that is in the field to secure the wool that will be shipped for storage under the national movement. Boston, Philadelphia, Omaha, St. Louis and other cities are just as eager to get the wool.

Mr. Walker said that for years wool growers had been at the mercy of buyers and that the national storage movement was for the purpose of putting an end to this condition, which had caused losses to producers.

"The national storage movement would result in the saving to wool growers of immense sums of money. Take the results of the Utah storage movement as an example. Recently between 100,000 and 200,000 pounds of Utah Wool, for which the sheepmen were offered 8 cents a pound by buyers early in the season, were sold at 16½ cents a pound net.

That is, the wool growers cleared 16½ cents above all expenses for shipping and storing. The price was 8½ cents more than was offered by the buyer; he would have made more than the wool grower, who took all the risks and did all the work, simply because he shipped the wool from the producing point to the eastern markets. That gives some idea of what can be saved to the western producers of wool. If the wool of the west is stored until the manufacturers enter the field for it, there will be no further need of paying annual tribute to the buyers, whose work in shipping the wool to the right market can just as well be done by the producers.

"As the wool growers begin to more thoroughly understand what the storage movement means, their enthusiasm increases. Next season there will be a vast amount of wool stored, for buyers will offer higher prices at shearing time."

One of the Important Duties of Physicians and the Well-Informed of the World is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the uniform quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known to physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the California Fig Syrup Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfect equipment and the ethical character of its product has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing, therefore we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the approval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., and the same heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

Good Fall Painting

If your buildings need painting now, don't put it off till next spring. Do it now! It will be money saved to protect the lumber against winter weather. Then, too, the fall is a fine painting season—weather conditions right; no heavy rains to soak into the lumber; no gnats and flies to stick to the fresh paint.

Our advice is: Paint now and use

RUMBLINGS OF THE RAIL

DEBS MAY DON OVERALLS AND JUMPER, BUT WILL NOT FIRE ENGINE.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

When Eugene V. Debs, socialist candidate for the presidency, tries to act as fireman on a train to the socialist picnic at Lemont, Ill., on Sunday next he may find himself in trouble with the managers of the road, who do not forget that Debs led the Pullman railway strike and is still on the blacklist.

Socialists have advertised that Mr. Debs, clad in jumper and overalls, would be stoker of the Chicago and Alton railway locomotive and run in to Lemont.

The price of tickets is to be $2, the extra charge being made because Mr. Debs will act as fireman.

Officials of the railway company said that under no circumstances would Mr. Debs be allowed to act as fireman of the train.

Across a Tottering Trestle.

It was learned today that passenger on a Missouri, Kansas and Texas train bound to St. Louis, narrowly escaped a serious accident yesterday when the train passed over a trestle, 150 feet high, at Gore, Mo., just a moment before the structure collapsed, says a St. Louis dispatch of the 24th inst. Weakness was caused by a washout.

Two of the uprights supporting the trestle broke while the train was passing over and the three others splintered after the train had crossed.

A School of Instruction.

A school of instruction for passenger and freight conductor, engineers, firemen, brakemen and switchmen will be held by Superintendent Finney, of the M. K. & T., at the company passenger shed at the state fair grounds at 9 o'clock Friday morning, Aug. 28.

All employees in these departments who have had necessary rest are required to attend.

He Has Quit Railroad.

Hugh A. Cross, twenty-five years ago a conductor and later a baggage-man on the Katy between Sedalia and Denison, Texas, now engaged in farming fifteen miles southeast of Nevada, passed through Sedalia on train No. 1 last evening, en route to his home, after visiting his father at Moberly.

Soon to Return to School.

Will Alexander, son of Supt. A. J. Alexander, of the Missouri Pacific, who has been visiting his parents in this city, left this afternoon for a few days' visit at Little Rock, Ark., after which he will return to Auburn, Ala., to resume his studies at a polytechnic school.

Weed Burner Going Again.

Superintendent Finney's famous "weed-burner," which is undergoing repairs in the local shops, will be turned out tomorrow and returned to the Kansas City division of the road.

Mr. Finney will accompany the machine for two days.

Missouri Pacific Pay Day.

Today is pay day for local employees of the Missouri Pacific, the company pay car arriving here on an early morning train. J. D. Brown is acting as paymaster this month, in the absence of T. L. Harkness.

A Brakeman's Baby Girl.

STAR WITH DETROIT TEAM

"FARMER" WILLETTTS WAS FAULTY WHEN HE PLAYED AT GUTHRIE.

WAS WILDER THAN A MARCH HARE

Now He Can Locate the Plate, However, and Is One of the Best Pitchers in the Country—Others Who Have Gone Higher.

Guthrie, Ok., Aug. 25.—Citizens of Guthrie remember well the week spent in Guthrie by "Farmer" Willettts, the pitcher who is now making an enviable record with the Detroit Americans. It was during the season of 1904, when Guthrie was a member of the old Southwestern league, composed of Enid, Oklahoma City, Chickasha and Guthrie.

Willettts was a resident of Corbin, Kas., and was the pitching wonder of amateur baseball in that portion of the state. It was about the middle of the season when he joined the Guthrie team, and he had won twenty-one games out of twenty-seven pitched for the Corbin team at that time.

Although it was but a brush league, Willettts was affected with stage fright, and despite the fact that he had sped to burn and curves that were wonders, he simply could not find the plate.

After going on the slab several times and being unable to put them over, he asked the management to permit him to return home. His request was granted. The next season he was given a tryout by Wichita and made good, and soon afterward joined Detroit.

Another member of the Detroit baseball team, formerly with Guthrie in the Western association in 1905, is "Red" Downs, second baseman. At that time Downs was considered the best stickler in the association, and he was not long in climbing Litcher, Milan, who heads the batting order for the Washington Americans, was with Guthrie a while in 1906 and went up rapidly. Ned Pettigrew, an Oklahoma outfielder, who was with Guthrie during the seasons of 1904-5, and now with the Hutchinson team of the Western association, has been sold to the Boston Americans for next season. His home is in Southern Oklahoma.
